Executive Director NANCY MARTIN

Aanii, Sago, Waciye

In January 2025, we held the grand opening of the Miziwe Biik Training Centre in the West Donlands. Thank you to the wonderful staff of Miziwe Biik for making the event a big success! We are grateful for the leadership and guidance of the late Joe Hester, Executive Director of Anishnawbe Health Toronto, for helping make this dream a reality.

Our new Miziwe Biik Training Centre currently offers carpentry and electrical training in partnership with the College of Carpenters and Allied Trades and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Miziwe Biik has also partnered with Centennial College to offer a pre-health program. This summer we were honoured to host Ojibwe language courses by Liz Osawamik and a Cree language course by Jimmy Dick.

Our offices at 167 Gerrard St. East are still open for business. Miziwe Biik Employment Advisors are on hand to help you with career exploration, resume writing and advise you on training opportunities. Don't forget about our on-site academic upgrading! All of our programs and opportunities are outlined on the Miziwe Biik website.

Miziwe Biik honours residential school children. Miziwe Biik honours MMIWGT2Spirit. We will never forget you.

Thank you to the community for entrusting us to serve your employment and training needs.

RESULTS

The Projects Department achieved significant results in 2024/2025, with clients completing training programs, workshops, and securing employment! The department consists of three Project Officers who work as a team to ensure client needs are met and budgets are maintained.

One Project Officer handles individual requests such as Employment Assistance Support Measures and Purchase of Training. Through these requests, clients receive support in education, skills development, and employment opportunities.

All Project Officers work to build relationships with organizations throughout the Greater Toronto Area.

We support employment opportunities for clients through Miziwe Biik funded programs. These include Targeted Wage Subsidy, Self Employment Assistance, and Local Labour Market Partnerships.

SUCCESS STORY: REBECCA P

I am from Atikameksheng Anishnawbek First Nation. At 15, I enrolled at the Native Learning Centre and first discovered Miziwe Biik through their computer literacy and resume workshops. Early experiences that planted seeds I'd draw on for years.

Life kept bringing me back to Miziwe Biik. When studying to become a PSW at George Brown, I needed CPR certification – Miziwe Biik provided it free. In 2020, I began caring for my grandmother, then welcomed my son. After five years out of the workforce, I felt uncertain about next steps. I found the Bridges Program online and it resonated deeply. With Jennifer Parberry's guidance, I updated my resume and applied. Brenna Lafrance led our seven-week program, covering everything from computer skills to job search strategies. I rediscovered parts of myself that had been dormant and rebuilt confidence I thought I'd never get back.

At a job fair through the program, I connected with Elaine from Na-Me-Res. That led to my current role as Mobile Housing Worker, helping Indigenous people navigate housing systems and find stability. I returned to Miziwe Biik once more for CPR, First Aid, and Mental Health First Aid certifications. I absolutely love my job. Thank you Miziwe Biik for being a constant source of strength, opportunity, and cultural reconnection throughout my life!

SUCCESS STORY: ANGELA N

I am proud to be First Nation, Bear clan, with connection to Kebaowek First Nation in Kipawa, Quebec. Born in British Columbia, lived in Calgary where I miss the mountains. I'm Algonquin, a mother, and consider myself a humanitarian. I have degrees in Criminology and Justice from UOIT and a Juris Doctor from Osgoode Hall Law School. I love loud drums and singing at powwows. Ceremony keeps me connected to our ancestors and the creator.

I first learned about Miziwe Biik during my undergraduate degree and received bursaries for my education. Over the years, they've supported me in many ways - financial help through multiple post-secondary degrees, affordable home-ownership workshops, wage subsidies for strategic employment positions, and support during the lawyer licensing process for my bar exams. Miziwe Biik even sends me email updates about opportunities and offers of Christmas gift baskets!

I am currently in the lawyer licensing process with the Law Society of Ontario. I've completed law school and articles, passed my Barrister exam, and will write the Solicitor exam in November 2025. I am not tied to one specific occupation after that. I want a rewarding career that uses my skills and improves people's lives. I seek to make a difference through my work, and I'm open to what that may look like. I'm hopeful I'll find the right fit soon. Thank you, Miziwe Biik!
